Army, was elected president of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, Mass., at the annual meeting last week in Boston. She succeeds George Shaw, Cook, C. S. B. of Brookline, Mass. Edward L. Ripley of Brookline and Ezra W. Palmer of Marshfield were re-elected treasurer and clerk respectively.

Mrs. Matters spent her childhood in various army posts in the United States, Alaska, the Philippines, China and Japan. While studying music in Boston she became interested in Christian Science. She then went abroad to continue her study of music and while there decided to give up her musical career to devote full time to Christian Science practice.

Commenting at the annual meeting on the turbulent international situation, the new president said that Christian Science reveals the power of individual man to meet and overcome the horde of menacing suggestions and subtle influences claiming to induce discouragement and apathy. It enables the Christian Scientist to overcome the belief that war can be of permanent advantage or that it is to be feared. It destroys the desire for an unrighteous victory and embracing peace and its right that wrong sense of values which would prefer this worlded peace to that active warfare between the flesh and spirit which the Mother Church teaches and which ultimately in the victory of spirituality and love.

The report of the treasurer for the fiscal year ended April 30, 1944, showed that the funds of The Mother Church were in a sound healthy condition and that there was no indebtedness at the close of the year.

Officers were elected as follows: president Mrs. Helen Ross; vice president Mrs. Julia Vent; secretary Sarah Allen and treasurer, Mrs. Jane Greger. Mrs. Vent presided at the lesson study. Young Women in China and the magazine quiz.

Conservation Regulations Are Studied at Columbus.

E. A. Williams of near Marion chairman of the Marion county conservation committee and O. H. Neimeyer of Prospect, state game protector were present in Columbus Tuesday for hearings held by the state conservation department.

The hearings, attended by representatives of county committees throughout Ohio, were to help guide future policy of the state department.

Findings of recent surveys made in each county were reported to district committees which in turn compiled the information for the state committee.

Questionnaires circulated in Marion county indicated that opinions of sportsmen and farmers here conform closely to findings in other sections of the state. Mr. Williams reported.

Among recommendations made during yesterday's hearings were renewal of road blockades to check general game violations during hunting season; election of the present sagger hunting season for rabbits and pheasant; offer of $1 bounty on any fox killed in Ohio; regulation requiring separate licenses for uppers and also for trappers; a 60-day permit for trapping from land owners.

Other recommendations of lesser importance and some which would effect only localities also were made. From the findings of the county district and state committees the conservation department plans to develop its future policy. Members of the state group were to continue their hearings.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Verizen Promises to Permit Mary and Noel to Live Their Own Lives.

"First," Mr. Verizen said, smiling a bit fatuously, "I wish to repeat what I said during the rehearsal, that I am tremendously pleased not only with the musical rendition of my future daughter but with her historic ability as well, and I am glad to welcome her to a secure place in the Verizen organization—if she wishes it."

I thought I knew what was behind those last words Philip Verizen is a Turkish pasha at heart. He secretly would prefer that the women of his family should not appear before the footlights. But none of us gave that thought. Instead we applauded his verdict upon Olga as heartily as we had his tribute to Mary, and then watched and listened breathlessly as he addressed his son with what I guessed was a camouflaged announcement that he fully accepted his marriage, and would never interfere with it again.

Two Daughters

"Noel, my son," he said formally, "it was always a grief to you, I know, that you never had a sister. Now I am presenting you a most charming one whom I know you will always love and cherish as if she were indeed your own."

"You are a most fortunate lad," he went on smiling, "to have a wife like yours, and then add a sister also. And I, who never had a daughter, am now doubly blessed in having two."

He raised Mary's hands to his lips, and then deftly handed her into Noel's keeping. Then he saluted Olga, in kind, and, offering her his arm, conducted her to her mother, who put both her hands in his with an impetuous and distinctly approving gesture.

"I take it the audience is over," Lillian said with a merry affectionate glance at her old friend who smiled back at her.

"I have said all that I have to say," he returned, "and I must now get back to the hotel."

"And we must get back to work," Lillian said, "picking up with her eyes, as if she were a dinner hostess, and making us realize that Philip and Olga might like a few minutes of conversation alone together. We all trooped out, leaving Philip with Olga and her daughter, but as the last of us came into the hall, we heard Olga say sweetly, 'Will you please excuse me, Maman? I must see Mrs. Graham a minute.'"

Verizen Accepts Mary

If I had it to do, the Olina's heart was engaged in the campaign she had been waging for Noel, I could have felt sorry for her, as with a callant but ineffective attempt at nonchalance, she rose and took the arm Noel dutifully held out to her. But by the time she reached her future step-father's side, and he had ranged her beside Mary, facing us, she was as poised and as imperturbable as every her royal mother could have wished, and I mentally saluted her courage even as I gloated over the discomfiture to her pride in that word "sister."

That in effectually put an end to her hope of estranging Mary and Noel, I know as well as if her mind had been an open page for my reading. She must have recognized her mother's hand as I had, and she no doubt knew, even better than I how median was her mother's edicts.

THURSDAY JUNE 13 1940

Promise and Performance

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S promise of material aid to the Allies must be transformed into performance. Terms are definite.

Sen Pepper of Florida who may be assumed to represent the administration will sponsor legislation giving the chief executive blanket powers. It may be taken for granted the legislation was prepared for Sen Pepper by presidential advisors.

The proposed law is reported to permit extension of credit to the Allies, give them free access to American military equipment and to authorize use of federal surplus commodity corporation foodstuffs for refugees. These are no menial policies.

Credit was the pitfall explored with the deepest misgivings after the World War. Out of those misgivings grew a resolution never to permit warring nations to get into debt to the United States again beyond their ability to pay.

The policy of giving the Allies access to military equipment has not waited on law to go into effect. By turning in United States planes to manufacturers for resale this government already has shown how it is possible to furnish material without benefit of legality.

It is now plain why talk of congressional adjournment at any time in the near future is not only silly but dangerous. There will be from day to day new and vital decisions to make—decisions which will affect the United States as directly as anything happening in Europe.

As far as possible the decisions should reflect the sense of the entire citizenship, the basis of judgment in the crisis should not be narrowed to an individual mind. The material aid the United States is willing to give should be given with congressional approval after free discussion of the problems entailed in each case. Mr. Roosevelt's penchant for promising should not be allowed to run its course in international affairs too.

Truth, The Rarest Commodity

WE DON'T know what to believe—everybody has an ax to grind.

Many Americans feel that way about war news—and properly. It is their only defense against being misled.

Pursued too far however it is a defense that ends in frustration. A person who believes nothing is being misled as surely as one who believes everything. There still are hard truths, even though truth is perhaps the rarest of all commodities in wartime.

The efficiency and ruthlessness of the German army is one of them. Events have stripped away all the confusion which surrounded Hitler's striking power even after it had been demonstrated at Poland's expense last September. The relative inadequacy of Allied militarism is another truth.

Still another vitally important is the desperation which causes Hitler to be in a tremendous hurry to finish his conquest before Germany's cardboard economic structure collapses under the strain.

Melvin K. Whiteleather who watched Hitler hammer out his military machine and helped to describe it as Associated Press correspondent in Germany, told an Ohio audience last week how it was done. Mr. Whiteleather, who is recuperating in this country from a physical breakdown brought on by overwork, has no ax to grind.

Germany, he knows from first hand experience developed its military power at the expense of its internal economy. The army's strength has robbed the nation. Preparation was not half hearted and tentative as it was in Great Britain and France but absolute. Behind the army virtually nothing is left. Failure to win an early victory will bring ruin.

Propaganda to the contrary notwithstanding the German people are under no delusion. They are confident of victory only to the extent that the blundering and hesitation of the Allies have made victory seem imminent. Many of them skeptical of Hitler's leadership were defeated before war started. When war did start, however, they had no choice but to fight to keep Germany from tottering into the chaos of ruin toward which Hitlerism had been leading it. German invincibility is an illusion created entirely by the army. Behind the army is a rotten internal economy incapable of sustaining war unless the Allies, lacking dash and imagination choose to yield rather than fight it out.

French Loire River Defense Line Believed Stronger on Map Than in Battle.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, June 13.—The historic French Loire river line of resistance on the map looks stronger on the map than it is in its rolling hills would have offered firm geographical defenses in the last war but this time the hills are insufficiently steep and woods too far apart to afford many more natural obstacles than the new German tanks.

Most unsatisfactory feature of this line however is that it concedes the best French ports and the great bulk of the French industrial region to the hordes of force without industrial production the French could not hope to maintain a battle line there very long.

Roosevelt leader in the house Mr. Rayburn has been saying around the Democratic cloakroom would like to see a Democratic vote against adjournment of congress. Shortly thereafter the entire Oklahoma delegation and then the Virginia delegation decided to vote against it.

Individual representatives could be effectively punished by Mr. Rayburn but not entire delegations.

are required to build a cruiser. How much harm it would do Hitler and Mussolini is debatable. If completely successful on land, he can probably turn the seized industrial plants of Belgium and France to substantial productive effort within six months time. Where he is going to get food this coming winter, however, is not clear.

Too Late or Too Soon?

Something like the personal consideration in the enactment of the proclamation was behind Mr. Roosevelt's choice of a course at Charlottesville. It may seem to have been the only course now that he has taken it. But he made it in the face of the unanimously black confidential reports he has received on the Allied outlook and in the dark knowledge that he was temporarily deficient in guns to back up his words. In effect he was committing himself to a course he could not control.

The alternative would have been to refrain from displays of belligerence toward prospective victors until fully armed and ready. Such a choice apparently occurred to a number of congressmen who have been groaning most in the state that the hour of the address was either too late or too soon to be decisive.

It is about the same advice Lincoln received from his cabinet on the emancipation proclamation. The stunning enthusiasm of such efforts can generate a driving force to overcome practical considerations.

Silver Amendment

Not all political forces here have laid aside practical considerations. The silver bloc for instance is backing an amendment to the reconstruction finance corporation bill which will provide government loans for planter miners and corporations to go out and hunt up more gold and silver mines to add to prevailing surplus stores. The amendment also provides for a legal tender note which is a legal tender note which is a legal tender note.

I definitely the U. S. has not paid claims due for mining ventures started similarly during the last war. A bureau is maintained in the interior department to handle these claims.

Advertisers

Even more practical is the Democratic national committee. Largest advertisers in its convention book this year as usual in fact.

Nazis Build from Nothing

All Canons of Finance Repudiated by Accomplishment.

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER

Associated Press Financial Editor

NEW YORK.—War is fantastically costly yet a nation internationally bankrupt and vastly deficient in natural resources is able to build and launch a war machine of such might and destructiveness as to shake the world.

How does Germany do it in defiance of traditional economics in seeming repudiation of all accepted canons of finance?

It is only six years ago that the reiki, reiki of gold and foreign balances and her credit shattered by unpaid payments on all foreign debts.

Dr. Schacht then head of the reichsbank complained of his country's dependence on foreign raw materials appealed to the world for a spirit of compromise, patience and good will. Financially and economically the reich was being run down and out.

Yet within a few months Adolf Hitler was rapidly developing his vast and costly armament program.

36 Billions for Arms.

Last autumn Hitler said he had spent 90 billions of reichsmarks to rearm. The world was incredulous. Since the German currency was unbacked by gold and had no free world market, one could not say how much that was in dollars, but at the official rate it would come to 36 billions.

What Germany is currently spending is not known but the rate of expenditure is enormous. British sources have placed it at 15 billions of dollars annually. Some estimates are higher.

Any consideration of what can be spent on war economics explains must begin by banishing all peace-time standards.

In 1914 economists were almost unanimous that no nation was financially able to wage war for more than a few months. Yet the direct money outlays of the first World War exclusive of costs of loss of life destruction of property depreciation of capital and loss of trade has been calculated at the astronomical figure of 186 billions of dollars.

Consideration of how Germany can pay have not nation has been able to pay for its breath-taking adventure in conquest must go back to the beginnings of the Nazi regime.

Hitler found some 30 per cent of German workers unemployed. Factories were idle, there was lack of money to import essential materials and food supplies. Germans willingly acquiesced in a system of controls of industry, labor, trade and finance.

These controls increased until today if you are a German the government tells you what you may eat, what you may wear, where you must work the hours you shall labor, what wages you may receive, what prices you shall pay for the essentials of life.

If you are a manufacturer you are told what you shall make, what you will sell it for, and that after you have paid your taxes profits left must be loaned to your government.

Only last month the British government asked and received similar authoritarian powers. Regime is a program of enormous detail and takes time. Hitler had a year start.

Germany is paying not only by lessening staggering taxes and borrowing all of the people's savings, but by severe sacrifice of the standard of living and of the creature comforts of her people.

Food Is Rationed

Of food one may have but one pound of meat a week. Only cabbage and potatoes are reasonably plentiful. Women are allowed four pairs of stockings annually.

Thus economists explain the whole national effort is geared for war. Normal replacements and repairs to industrial plant, housing institutions not needed for the conduct of the war are neglected.

An analysis of the situation at the outbreak of the war recently made public by the U. S. department of commerce said that taxes and other levies in the fiscal year 1938-39 took 47 per cent of the national income. Currently the percentage is presumably higher.

But as for the intensive internal organization of the reich she has the problem of finding ways to obtain essential materials from abroad.

Supplies Are Problem

The supply problem for Germany in the minds of most economic and military experts, remains Hitler's Achilles heel. Of coal he has plenty. Iron supplies have been increased by the seizure of Luxembourg and Sweden. Chief of supply base must presumably do what she can to meet German demands, taking currency good only in Germany, spending it there for what supplies she can get since she is cut off from assistance and supplies from Allied powers.

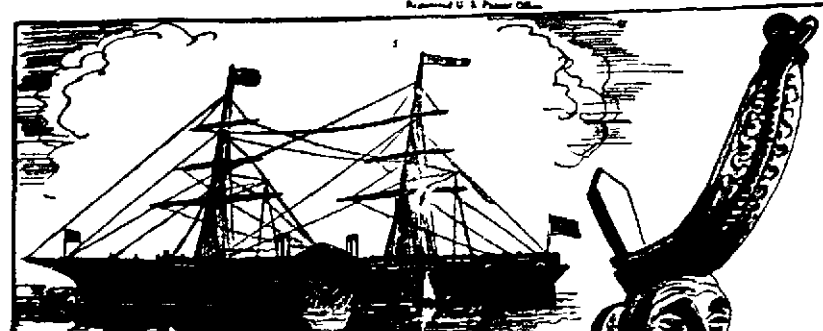

The reich has acquired big food and industrial supplies by her seizure of the Low Countries and Denmark, but will have a problem of feeding her peoples when the supplies are used.

Oil seems the most serious problem

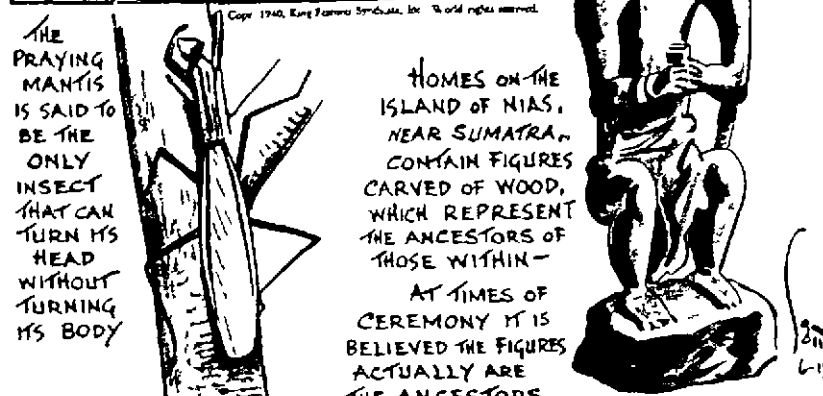

Most experts agree that the fantastic German organization and endeavor economically and financially seems to make a "short" war essential to German victory. Some experts observe there is also the question of how long the German people would endure the sacrifices they are called upon to make.

Clear Warning to U. S. Seen in Tuesday

Speech by President of Brazil

By WALTER LIPPMANN

MUSSOLINI entered the war on Monday. On Tuesday the President of Brazil made a speech aligning himself with the United States. This was a public notice by the head of the largest country in South America that a victory of the totalitarian states in Europe is to mean here, month ago, when we talked of defending this hemisphere we thought it a fairly simple matter of stopping Hitler from putting an army on transport and sailing to some distant Latin American country. Col. Lindbergh reminded us that the Atlantic Ocean is very wide. Then we watched the Norwegian affair and realized that a country can be conquered by the Trojan horse method—that is to say by organizing a conspiracy and running in arms and disguised soldiers to support it. We were startled into realizing that in order to resist a conquest of this type in South America we should have to send a fleet and an army over an expanse of salt water that is larger than the distance from the United States to Europe.

But even when we had awakened to this we had not really understood the problem which we confronted. It is not Germany and Italy which knock out the Allies. President Vargas of Brazil has however made the thing clear and no matter how much effort is made to explain away his speech what he said on Tuesday is a warning that we shall ignore only at our extreme peril. President Vargas made it clear to us that if we permit the Axis to win in Europe the Axis will not have to conquer what it covets in South America. It will not even have to organize many Trojan horse conspiracies. There will be dictators in South America already in power at strategic points who will proclaim themselves leaders of "virile peoples." They will themselves with Hitler and Mussolini. They will declare with Mussolini that they stand with the poor numerous peoples who labor against starvation who ferociously cling to a monopoly of all riches and all gold on earth.

Problem

Our problem then will not be how to defend this hemisphere against Europe. Our problem will be how to defend ourselves in this hemisphere.

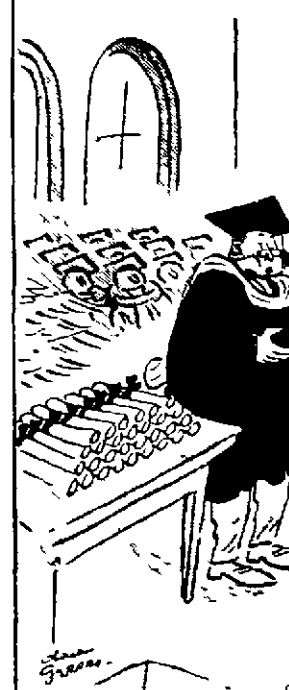

The President did not misjudge the situation when he labored to lead to keep it out of the war. He did not misjudge the situation when he recognized on Monday that the intervention of Italy was a matter of immediate and vital concern to the United States. For the plain fact of the matter is that if the Nazis smash the British fleet in northern Europe or capture it and if Mussolini and Hitler smash the Allied fleets in the Mediterranean and break out into the Atlantic, then it will be beyond any power we possess or can quickly mobilize to defend South America. Strategically, economically and ideologically South America will be beyond our reach.

No one will South America have been so definitely within the control of the Axis as are the Balkan states in Europe. But there will be available in South America content bases of operation against the canal and the inner defenses of continental United States. Col. Lindbergh has told us that airplanes are still not able easily to fly the Atlantic and return. That is true. But if the airplanes have landing fields and bases in this hemisphere, they can fly back and forth.

Problem

Our problem then will not be how to defend this hemisphere against Europe. Our problem will be how to defend ourselves in this hemisphere.

"Sorry, nothing for you THIS YEAR either, Harbinger"

Yah, Mr. Nugent

There is Too Such a Thing a Critic's Picture and Right Here Are Figures to Prove It.

By DAMON RUNYON

In the current issue of the Motion Picture Herald, one of the publications of the cinema industry James D. Ivers states that pictures the New York critics rated 10 cent are among the 12 lowest in box office ratings.

Five other pictures which were not in the critics, are among the next group of six in boxoffice percentages, according to Mr. Ivers. Thus we have a total of nine pictures the critics liked but for which the cash customers played the avoid.

All of which we think gives the old professor the duke in an argument he had last winter with Mr. Frank Nugent, then picture critic of the New York Times when we spoke of certain pictures as essentially or less pictures. We meant that while they appealed to critics, they did not also appeal to cash customers. Mr. Nugent defied us as we name five such pictures released a he past 10 years.

Well, since then Mr. Nugent has gone to Hollywood and taken refuge behind Zanuck's polo coat tails where we can't see him. He has turned screen artist, and while the argument probably longer interests him, we think he should. Mr. Ivers findings if only to learn what of pictures not to write.

It should be easy in Mr. Nugent's place cause he can contemplate a picture from the viewpoint of a critic. If he finds self liking the idea he can immediately card it as probably of no allure to the customers. Not many screenwriters have the advantage.

OPINION of metropolitan critics corresponds with the view of the cash customer. 16 per cent of the time according to Mr. Ivers the critics are approximately right. He says another 15 per cent, but they are 59 per cent of the time. Their average of a picture is 72 per cent against the customers 51 per cent as indicated by office returns.

He bases his figures on 62 pictures. Cash and customer's coincided exactly in 10 instances and in nine others he says they are enough to be within a margin of error. But the remaining 42 the differences range all way to the extremes of the scale.

The four pictures the critics rated per and which Mr. Ivers says are among the lowest at the boxoffice are Abe Lincoln in Illinois, Grapes of Wrath, Of Mice and Men and Pincushion. The five the liked but which are among the next group of six in boxoffice ratings are The Lion Has Wings, Rule of the Sea, Nurse Edith Cavell and We Not Alone.

CRITICS and cash customers saw eye to eye on Goodbye Mr. Chips, and Mr. Goes to Washington. Nor were they far apart on Pygmalion, Wuthering Heights, Dark Victory. These were 100 per cent the critics and 75 (for the first two) and 70 per cent with the cash customers.

However it is only fair to the critics to say that of the 12 highest grossing pictures in Ivers survey they were right on six—Goodbye Mr. Chips, Mr. Smith Goes to Washington, Drums Along the Mohawk, The Maid, The Real Glory, That's Right, You Wrong, They Muffled Babes in Arms, Go With the Wind, The Great Victor Herbert and Hunchback of Notre Dame, but were far close on His Girl Friday and Fighting 69 (Gone With the Wind is not included in Ivers calculations).

WUTHERING HEIGHTS received the New York film critics award as the best picture of 1939. The newspaper film critics America selected as the 10 best pictures of year Dark Victory, Love Affair, Goodbye Mr. Chips, Mr. Smith Goes to Washington, Ninotchka, Pygmalion, Stagecoach, Wizard of Oz, The Women and Wuthering Heights, in which list are only a couple of uncut cash customer avoids.

Personally we find that the joy of travel over Mr. Nugent is greatly lessened by a ring of doubt as to our own status. We have always considered ourselves strictly a cash voters. However among the big avoids Ivers Mr. Ivers are pictures we thought terrific. In instance Abe Lincoln, Grapes of Wrath and Pincushion. We are now wondering after all we really are nothing but a critic.

Anecdotes of Ohio

By GILBERT F. DODDS

John Mix Stanley devoted 10 years to extensive traveling through the west to sketch paint American Indians, then exhibited works in several principal cities including Cincinnati only to have all but five destroyed by fire in 1865.

Stanley visited Keokuk at his lodge portraits of Sauk chiefs and Black Hawk. In the fall of 1846 at Santa Fe he joined Kearney expedition to California. By July he was in Oregon where he canoed on the Columbia river 1,000 miles, sketching river Indians and Mount Hood.

The collection of accurate portraits described as being of 43 different Indians, obtained at the cost hazard a convenience of a 10 years tour was destroyed by the Smithsonian Institution in 1862.

New Words

With Germany's onslaught against the powers in the west, two more German expressions, Stuka and Panzer Division, have found their way into general use.

A Stuka, or dive bomber, plane is officially known to the Germans as a "Sturzkflugzeug." Translated literally the word means "plunge-light-flying-implant." This mouthful was telescoped to "stuka."

"Panzer" means coat-of-mail. Because Germans have always been prone to run words by combining others, "Panzer" was fixed to anything which was armored, scuttled, pocket battleship, Graf Spee, a "Panzer" was officially described as a "Panzer" or armored ship. "Panzer Division" therefore, means, literally, armored division.

In the 1930's there were successful revolutions in Bolivia, Peru (two), Chile (two), Argentina, Spain, Paraguay (two), Cuba, Brazil, Greece, Siam, Poland, the government were crushed in Russia, Austria, India, Palestine, Iraq, Mexico, Chile, Rumania, and Germany.

placers to the western hemi-

Proposals to follow the billion-committee. Secretary Morgenthau advised that this would be an op-

Senator Connally (D Tex.) said
"Too many senators want to go

A request that congress take a

Wallace who said that the admin-

"The ever-normal granary pro-

Congressional leaders gave no called for final action on the Even though administration followers won a finance committee agreement to vote Saturday on the tax bill, the senate debate next week may take longer than they first anticipated.

A major fight was in the making over a proposal by Senator Byrd (D-Va) to whack 10 percent from non defense and "non-essential" appropriations which Byrd estimated would save $500-000,000.

WHERE GERMAN ARMIES APPROACH GATES OF PARIS

BULLITT TELLS NAZIS PARIS TROOPS LEAVE

American Envoy Reported in Role in Communications.

By The Associated Press
BERLIN, June 13.—Reliable although unofficial sources said tonight that the French through United States Ambassador William C. Bullitt, have advised Germany that all troops have been removed from Paris.

The report which could not be checked in official quarters said that the American ambassador in a message on behalf of the French government said only "Frenchmen and police were remaining in Paris."

The Germans have emphasized that Paris might meet the fate of Warsaw or Rotterdam both badly bombed if the French insisted on defending the city against the German forces now almost half encircling it.

Donald R. Heath, United States charge d'affaires, declined to deny that he had received such a communication on behalf of the French government from Bullitt. He said merely, "I have no comment."

OHIO OFFICER NABS FLEEING CONVICT

By The Associated Press

WILMINGTON, O., June 13.—A Negro convict who overpowered two officers returning him to Georgia to resume a 35 to 70 year sentence for armed robbery was nabbed by a patrolman yesterday.

The Negro Benjamin Hughes, 25, alias "Lightfoot" was caught by State Highway Patrol Sgt. E. P. Webb yesterday when an automobile seized from the Georgia officers skidded off a curve near Georgetown, O., 40 miles south of here.

Hughes broke away from Capt. J. D. Ragsdale of the Fulton county (Georgia) identification bureau and Sergeant C. F. Lyle near Huntington, W. Va. and escaped with their car and a gun.

Webb spotted him a few hours later and gave chase. He said the fugitive suddenly jammed on the brakes nearly forcing the patrol car into a wreck.

R. A. F. PLANES BLAST AT ITALIAN BASES

By The Associated Press

CAIRO, June 13.—Roaring south and west from Egyptian bases, the royal air force smashed new blows today at Italian airbases in Libya and Abyssinia and at the Red Sea ports of Eritrea.

Air Marshal Arthur Longmore said the continued air attacks are delivering a crippling blow on strongholds from which Egypt might be threatened.

LIGHT AIRPLANE PLANTS WILL INCREASE CAPACITY

Middletown and Alliance Factories To Expand

By The Associated Press
MIDDLETOWN, O., June 13.—Rapid expansion of the light airplane industry in Ohio appeared likely today as officials of two major firms disclosed proposals to double their capacities.

The Aeronautical Corp. of America, which just moved from Cincinnati to 100 per cent larger quarters here, may produce as many as 50 Aeromacs a week within a year. Production Manager Giles E. Barton said.

Simultaneously the Taylorcraft Aviation Corp. of Alliance submitted a refinancing plan to stockholders for enlargement of its plant to raise capacity from 1,000 to 2,000 planes a year. Directors asked authority to issue 60,000 shares of new preferred stock.

Taylorcraft now employs about 220 persons and Aeronautical Corp. 125. Barton said he hoped to have 200 men and women working by August.

Aeronautical's 1940 schedule calls for manufacture of 1,200 ships. The firm recently started turning out a tandem training plane designed for the college pilot training program.

TAX COLLECTIONS UP

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 13.—State Treasurer Don H. Ebricht reported today that May collections of cigarette, wine and beer excise taxes totaled $1,008,272, a gain of $105,471 or six per cent over the corresponding month a year ago.

Paris Defenders Show Their Spirit in Counter-Attack

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Generalissimo Weygand's Allied forces defending Paris are in a light spirit because of the insistent German turning movements which are calculated to encircle and destroy the main French army.

Just how tight that spot is depends as I indicated yesterday on how close the Nazi offensive is to the threatening moment which must come to all such great drives.

One would expect the invading machine to show signs of slowing up already, but it must be admitted that thus far those signs have been lacking. The assault was continued with unabated fury today. The Germans are announcing that they are using 1,800,000 troops, which I should say would be about twice the defending force.

Feet Speak Volumes

Where Weygand's Allies got the strength to counter attack north of Paris this morning and hurl the Hitlerites back five miles is a matter of wonder. This feat now speaks volumes however for the fighting spirit and stamina of the defenders.

As this is being written a bulletin from Berlin states that the French military will be asked by the German high command to surrender Paris. Apart from other considerations, the Nazis have been considerably concerned over their reaction to a destructive siege of Paris.

If the present tempo of the French doesn't change, this cosmopolitan city which belongs equally to all cultured nations will not be surrendered until the defenders are crushed.

Effect Adverse to Nazis

Should Paris be razed to my mind the effect of that tragedy will reach far beyond France. It will sweep around the world and I believe that it will have a potent influence on the minds of men.

The aerial smoke from exploding bombs and fires which already is rising from the quaint old-world streets is writing across the sky a symbol of something bigger than Paris or even France. Each of us must interpret that for himself as his conscience directs.

For some it may mean justice, freedom and brotherhood of men. For others it may represent the code that might is right.

That is something I can't figure out excepting for myself but I can say that your decision and my decision will represent for us the spirit of this war and the sort of social structure we want to see grow out of it.

PUPILS HELP POLICE SEEK MURDER CLUES

By The Associated Press

LORAIN, O., June 13.—Classmates of pretty Velma Ericson, 16-year-old Lorain high school honor graduate today planned a mass meeting in an effort to turn up a clue in her mysterious death.

Friends and police want to learn first the identity of a youth who took Miss Ericson and a friend Ruth Ford 18 for an automobile ride a few hours before the younger girl died of a skull fracture yesterday.

Miss Ericson graduated last week with a 90 average and Miss Ford accepted a ride with a young man, also attending a party Tuesday night. Police Chief Theodore Walker reported.

The driver took Miss Ford home first and the next that was heard from Miss Ericson was when she was found wandering in a dazed condition in South Lorain about 2:30 yesterday morning. Walker added. She died in a hospital three or four hours later.

PLEDGE TO AID ALLIES REAFFIRMED BY TURKS

By The Associated Press

ISTANBUL, June 13.—Turkey today reaffirmed her mutual assistance pacts with Britain and France and dismissed Mussolini's offer to respect her neutrality as worthless.

The government, however, awaited developments before making any definite move toward entering the war.

The officially controlled Turkish press which since Italy's entry into the war has been extremely cautious suddenly loosed a violent attack on Italy.

There were indications that these attacks were inspired and reflected the government's attitude.

Paris Defenders Show Their Spirit in Counter-Attack

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Generalissimo Weygand's Allied forces defending Paris are in a light spirit because of the insistent German turning movements which are calculated to encircle and destroy the main French army.

Just how tight that spot is depends as I indicated yesterday on how close the Nazi offensive is to the threatening moment which must come to all such great drives.

One would expect the invading machine to show signs of slowing up already, but it must be admitted that thus far those signs have been lacking. The assault was continued with unabated fury today. The Germans are announcing that they are using 1,800,000 troops, which I should say would be about twice the defending force.

Feet Speak Volumes

Where Weygand's Allies got the strength to counter attack north of Paris this morning and hurl the Hitlerites back five miles is a matter of wonder. This feat now speaks volumes however for the fighting spirit and stamina of the defenders.

As this is being written a bulletin from Berlin states that the French military will be asked by the German high command to surrender Paris. Apart from other considerations, the Nazis have been considerably concerned over their reaction to a destructive siege of Paris.

If the present tempo of the French doesn't change, this cosmopolitan city which belongs equally to all cultured nations will not be surrendered until the defenders are crushed.

Danger of the city being taken may have been lessened by the action of the military governor in declaring it an open city, and that the city proper will not be defended.

Effect Adverse to Nazis

Should Paris be razed to my mind the effect of that tragedy will reach far beyond France. It will sweep around the world and I believe that it will have a potent influence on the minds of men.

The aerial smoke from exploding bombs and fires which already is rising from the quaint old-world streets is writing across the sky a symbol of something bigger than Paris or even France. Each of us must interpret that for himself as his conscience directs.

For some it may mean justice, freedom and brotherhood of men. For others it may represent the code that might is right.

That is something I can't figure out excepting for myself but I can say that your decision and my decision will represent for us the spirit of this war and the sort of social structure we want to see grow out of it.

PUPILS HELP POLICE SEEK MURDER CLUES

By The Associated Press

LORAIN, O., June 13.—Classmates of pretty Velma Ericson, 16-year-old Lorain high school honor graduate today planned a mass meeting in an effort to turn up a clue in her mysterious death.

Friends and police want to learn first the identity of a youth who took Miss Ericson and a friend Ruth Ford 18 for an automobile ride a few hours before the younger girl died of a skull fracture yesterday.

Miss Ericson graduated last week with a 90 average and Miss Ford accepted a ride with a young man, also attending a party Tuesday night. Police Chief Theodore Walker reported.

The driver took Miss Ford home first and the next that was heard from Miss Ericson was when she was found wandering in a dazed condition in South Lorain about 2:30 yesterday morning. Walker added. She died in a hospital three or four hours later.

HONGKONG, June 13.—The Japanese army in south China today issued a statement saying it was not able to condone and give Chiang Kai-shek by authorities of French Indo-China who are unable to take cognizance of the new state of affairs in East Asia.

It added that the Japanese army had "unimpeachable information" that French Ambassador Henri Comte took Chiang Kai-shek in April that France, while outwardly maintaining a neutral attitude in the Chinese-Japanese war, had in fact been extending a great deal of assistance to China because the greater part of the war material which the Chungking government bought abroad passed through Indo-China.

Where French Say They'll Fight Invaders "Street by Street"

Paris, called by many architects the world's most beautiful city, with its art museums, forests, magnificent gardens and elaborate buildings, has been evacuated by the French government as the Nazi invaders draw near.

If the German troops enter Paris, as it appeared likely they will, the chances are they will come in through the north and west. One of the first points the Nazis are expected to aim at is the famous Arc de Triomphe, erected as a French war memorial, now containing the tomb of the nation's Unknown Soldier of the World war, where burns an eternal flame. If you save this map, you may be able to follow action later on if the Germans battle through Paris, which the French say they will defend "street by street."

DELAWARE COUNTY TRAIN SERVICE RULING GIVEN

Special to The Star
DELAWARE, O., June 13—Delaware county villages are vitally concerned with the Ohio supreme court's reversal yesterday of an order of the state utilities commission permitting the Pennsylvania railroad to discontinue service by two local passenger trains between Columbus and Akron.

Municipalities affected include Sunbury, Galena, Westerville, Condit and Centerville. In reversing the order the court remanded the proceedings to the utilities commission for new hearings. The railroad runs the trains between Columbus and Akron daily except Sunday. They are the only local passenger trains on the Pennsylvania between the two cities.

COURT REVIEW REFUSED
DELAWARE, O., June 13—The state supreme court yesterday refused to hear arguments in the dispute of Paul R. and Emily Riddle of Route 23 north of Delaware with the Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co. over correct easements and location of utility poles in front of the Riddle farm. The appellate court affirmed the Delaware county common pleas court's decision in favor of the company.

Crane and lived in Galion with her late husband when he was associated with the Rosemaid company here.

Cong. Smith Declares Government Economies Needed Before New Taxes

Says Present "Wrongful Spending" Should Be Halted To Provide Funds for Defense.

Congress will err in levying new taxes for defense before cutting "the enormous, wrongful government spending which now exists," Congressman Frederick C. Smith of Marion told the house in discussion of defense financing, a news report from Washington stated today.

The eighth district representative recommended the bill increasing taxes and boosting the debt limit four billion dollars should provide for a dollar cut in government spending for every dollar in new taxes.

The full text of Dr. Smith's remarks follows: "That the nation now needs to raise additional taxes is perhaps recognized by all, but for my part I wish to make it clear that I think congress is doing the nation a grave wrong by levying the amount of taxes involved in this measure before we cut out the enormous, wrongful government spending which now exists."

"Nothing in our country is contributing more to our present trouble as lost confidence in government. This is the biggest barrier against our achieving the much-needed unity in our efforts to properly arm our nation for defense against any possible external foe.

"The outstanding need of America today is the restoration of confidence in government. Perish our nation must if this is not restored. This can be done only if those of us who are vested with the authority to operate our government show our willingness to be just and fair with those who sent us here to represent them and who are paying us well for our services with their hard-earned money. This we are failing to do when we pass this tax measure before we even consider what might be done to eliminate the unnecessary and wasteful government spending.

vision separately. Therefore you virtually force us to vote for raising the debt limit.

"It is as though I had squandered all my earnings and reached the limit of my credit and my child became seriously ill and needed the services of a physician. Of course I would be compelled to do things to raise the necessary funds to employ a physician for my child's care that I would not do otherwise."

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of sleep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, breathlessness and dizziness. Frequent or scanty urination with astringent and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Kidneys may need help the same as bowels. So ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Last of $630,900 in Scioto River Improvement Bonds To Be Paid

Last Payment of $35,000 for Huge Drainage Program To Be Made on Oct. 1.

Special to The Star
KENTON, June 13 — The last $35,000 in bonds issued nearly two years ago to improve the Scioto river area in Hardin county will be retired Oct. 1, it was announced today by Neil C. Ahlfield, president of the board of directors of the Scioto conservancy district.

At that date the board will take $35,000 in bonds which will retire the last of the conservancy district's indebtedness, Ahlfield reported.

In keeping with the bond retirement, Mr. Ahlfield reported that special assessments made against 2700 properties along the river and its tributaries will be greatly reduced starting with the December tax collection. For the last 19 and a half years, owners of land in the affected area have been assessed 90 per cent annually for the conservancy work, whereas the new tax rate will be only one per cent of the estimated value.

vided for them by the leaders of "virile peoples," they will not need to fly the Atlantic where Col. Lindbergh flew it in his first flight. They will fly it where Col. Lindbergh flew it in one of his later flights, down where the ocean is as inconveniently narrow between Africa and Brazil that the distance is no greater than from Maine to Florida.

The plain truth of the matter is that the fate of the Monroe Doctrine and the security of the western hemisphere will be decided in the battles that will be fought around the British Isles and at Gibraltar. If the French resistance is broken, if the British Isles are subjugated, and if Spain and northwestern Africa are dominated by Hitler and Mussolini, the strategic defenses of the western hemisphere will have been shattered. After that we shall be able to fight only a rear-guard action in the outposts of our security while we attempt at infinite cost and sacrifice to arm ourselves sufficiently to maintain our very independence.

Thanks to President Vargas the position is so plain, and the warning is so unmistakable, that only the hopelessly foolish can misunderstand it any longer.

Marion Co. Game Protector Taking Part in U. S. Bird Banding Program

Given Federal Permit To "Tag" Birds in Connection with Study of Migratory Fowls

O. H. Neimeyer, of Marion, game protector, has begun a program of banding game and other migratory birds as part of a nationwide study of the habits of various types of birds. He recently was granted federal and state permits to capture birds for the purpose of banding and identifying them.

The object of the program is to learn the routes used by birds in their annual migrations, preferred nesting grounds and other phases of their life cycle. All game birds released in this section in the future will be included in the banding program.

Bands Provided
Mr. Neimeyer has been supplied with an assortment of bird bands by the United States department of interior through which he was granted a permit for the work. The bands are made to look on the legs of birds and each carries a recorded serial number. The number provides a means of identifying the bird if it is found later or recaptured.

The general public is urged to cooperate in the work. Sportsmen and residents of rural sections can be particularly helpful. Mr. Neimeyer pointed out. The numbers on leg bands of game birds taken during hunting season or of other migratory birds found at any time should be forwarded to him. At the time of the release with bands, a record is made of the band number and the location of the point where the bird was released.

Band Game Birds
Game birds released in this section by the conservation department were banded. A total of 425 pheasants were distributed in the 11 central Ohio counties comprising District No. 5, of which Marion is a part. Forty were released in Marion county, 50 in Union county and 25 each in Delaware and Morrow counties.

Of those released the recorded band numbers are mailed along with a notation of the county, township and immediate locality.

Peter Astra Wins $1,000 Free-for-All Before 2,500 Short Ship Fans

Hambletonian Winner Turns in Best Trotting Mile of Year in 2:06.

PETER ASTRA, last year's Hambletonian winner, blitzed a field of seven starters to sweep the featured $1,000 free-for-all trot during last night's second session of the four-night Ohio Short Ship harness racing program at the county fairground.

The swift-footed bay horse turned the second heat in 2:06, posting the year's swiftest trotting mile. The first and third heats were clocked at 2:09. Owner L. M. Gunderling of Andover, O., was among the estimated crowd of 2,500 on hand to see the event.

Has Big Night

It was a big night for the famous Urbana, Ill., horseman, who topped the initial races of all four events before he was headed. He took his own Modern Boy home 1-2-1 to win the 224 trot and split the three-year-old pace by finishing 1-2 with the May-owned Toro. Chestnut Lucky Boy from the Deawac stable of Joe Neville did equally as well with a 2-1 finish to win the 225 trot.

With two more nights to go only the possibility of unfavorable weather can keep the current harness program from meeting advance appraisals of being the best ever in the Short Ship circuit. Last night's crowd much larger than the second session of the 1939 program brought in approximately 4,000 the total attendance since the races opened Tuesday night.

Another great race card is on tap tonight. Forty horses have been nominated for the 10 dashes which offer purses totaling $2,100.

Wayne (Curly) Smart above brought Chestnut Lucky Boy home a winner during last night's racing card. Both the driver and Owner Joe Neville are from Delaware.

Feature 1 is the $1,000 free-for-all trot with a field of six. Details of the program together with entries for Friday night's racing will be found in another article beginning on page 1.

SPORTS THE MARION STAR

Dodgers, Already on Top, Add Medwick and Davis To Bolster Title Chances

By JUDSON BAILEY Associated Press Sports Writer

The Brooklyn Dodgers, who already have a 3-1 lead in the National League, added two more stars to their roster today.

The club's first baseman, Ted E. Phillips, was traded to the Dodgers for pitcher, Tomlinson, who was traded to the Philadelphia Phillies.

The Dodgers' new pitcher, Tomlinson, was traded to the Philadelphia Phillies for pitcher, Tomlinson, who was traded to the Philadelphia Phillies.

He gave up four hits and hit one batter for three Pittsburgh runs without ever getting a strike out in his first inning. Then White took charge and allowed only five hits for the remainder of the game and the Dodgers ultimately triumphed 5-4.

This victory was enough to keep the Dodgers in front of the Cincinnati Reds who edged out the Philadelphia Phillies 2-1 in another night game.

The triumph by the Dodgers and Reds set a showy stage for the four-game series there tomorrow. The spectacle may surpass the similar American League pageant just completed at Boston where the Red Sox defeated the Yankees 4-3 in the first game of the series.

After routing Bob Feller yesterday the Red Soxers yesterday chased outpunch Al Milner, the league's leading pitcher, with a 4-3 victory. The sweep of the two game series put Boston two full games ahead of the Indians and a similar distance in front of the second place Detroit Tigers, who are won by the New York Yankees 7-5.

Like the Red Sox, the Yankees had to come from behind to win but proved themselves capable when Charley Keller blasted a three-run homer in the seventh inning. The Tigers had belted Marvin Brewer for four runs and four runs in the first inning but ran out of the lead in the eighth.

The Philadelphia Phillies took a strange test from the Chicago White Sox 3-2. The Sox were held to three hits by Thomas Lee but two of these were home runs by Bob Johnson and Sam Chapman. Johnson's home run came in the eighth inning.

The Washington Senators edged out the St. Louis Browns by the same score, 3-2, on a 5-4 hit pitching of Ken C. Cook. The only southpaw to have any luck all day.

Fast-Stepping Ohio Trotter in $1,000 Race Tonight

Miss Budong above is one of the six entries nominated for the $1,000 free-for-all trot tonight's harness racing card at the county fairground. Miss Budong, the property of O. C. Ate, man of the Vernon, is the only Ohio-owned horse boasting a 2:00 record.

Whispering advice...

You'll agree that there are easier things to do than to buy gifts for Father. And on Father's Day the job seems twice as hard because you're more anxious than ever to please him. So play safe! Take advantage of the experience of our CONTEMPO experts. They've built a reputation on good taste and smart styling. They've proved that it's WHAT HE WEARS WITH WHAT that makes a man well dressed. Give your Father a complete CONTEMPO ensemble—one that goes with his personality and the clothes he has. Or you give one or two of the items and have someone else give the rest of the group so he gets the entire outfit.

Get In the Swim

By JOHNNY WEISSMULLER
Former World Speed Champion

(Second in a Series)

The basis of swimming is confidence. The coordination necessary for the various swimming strokes comes easily once the fear of the water is overcome. The first lesson, therefore, is to learn how to breathe and to become accustomed to holding the breath under water.

Some beginners have a feeling of suffocation when their head is under water and immediately become terrified. To overcome this, stand in shallow water and duck your head under the surface to get used to the feeling of pressure. Then, holding the breath, if necessary, with the fingers holding the nose, squat under the water, open your eyes and look at your hand. Keeping the eyes open adds to the feeling of confidence.

Correct form in the water cannot be obtained without correct breathing. The first thing to remember is that breathing in the water is exactly the opposite of breathing on land. For swimming, you inhale through the mouth, exhale through the nose. In practically all strokes except the breast stroke, the head is under water most of the time, so it is obvious that inhalation through the nose is impossible.

Practice inhaling through the mouth and exhaling through the nose before entering the water, then practice it in the water. Take a breath through the mouth, submerge and blow out the air through the nose. If this correct method of breathing is used, the swimmer will be able to develop confidence, rhythm and speed, also the relaxation which is an essential part of good swimming.

Sarazen Challenges U. S. Ryder Cup Team to Red Cross Benefit TourneyGene Lines Up 10-Man Team; Issues Defy as In-terness Play Opens.

TOLEDO, O., June 12—It looks as if the American Ryder Cup golf team, crushed out of its match with England by the war, will see action after all. The 10-man team will play for the British, not against them, if plans formulated today materialize.

Gene Sarazen, stocky veteran who lost the National Open in Sunday's playoff with Lawson
Little at Cleveland, counted off 10 professionals on his fingers and said:

"Now there's a team that could give our Ryder Cup team a trimming, and we hereby issue a challenge, with all the receipts to go to the Red Cross."

Walter Hagen, who has captained every one of the U. S. Ryder Cup teams, accepted the chalenge. Fred Corcoran, tournament manager for the Professional Golfers association, hopped into action, wiring four cities to ask for bids on the proposed match.

"The event is definitely on," Corcoran said. "We want to hold it before July 15, and we should have the definite site within a couple of days."

Sarazen named himself as playing captain of the challengers, and backed himself up with Little, the brand new National Open king;
Ed Oliver, Jimmy Demaret, Ben Hogan, Clayton Haefer, Craig
Wood, Lloyd Mangrum, Jimmy
Thomson and Tommy Armour.

Members of the Ryder Cup team are Hagen, non-playing captain; Byron Nelson, Henry Picard, Dick Metz, "Jug" McSpaden, Horton Smith, Ralph Guldahl, Vic Ghezzi, Jimmy Hines, Sam Snead and Paul Runyan.

The challenge was issued and accepted today as 16 of the country's top flight professionals leed off for the first round of the sixth annual Inverness Invitational four-ball tournament.

STAGGERED PHEASANT
SEASON IS DROPPEDState Sets Dates for Nov.
15-30 for Birds.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., June 12—Pheasant hunting season this fall probably will open Nov. 15 and close Nov. 30, abandoning last year's staggered season which banned shooting the first three days of each week.

Don Waters, conservation commissioner, said there was a "definite sentiment" among farmers against the broken season and that the Ohio commission of conservation and natural resources felt their views could not be ignored since they provided the hunting grounds.

The system, inaugurated last year as an experiment, extended the customary 15 days of hunting over a period of three weeks.

The commission tentatively decided to allow rabbit hunting Nov. 15 to Jan. 1, inclusive, with the bag limit remaining at four a day. The daily bag limit for cock pheasants probably will remain at two.

The squirrel season probably will be set for Sept. 25 to Oct. 10, inclusive, with the daily bag limit being four and the possession limit at eight.

Daily partridge and grouse take will be fixed at four and two, respectively, during the Nov. 15 to Nov. 30 period.

The commission also decided to cut 15 days off the raccoon season, which will be Dec. 1 to Jan. 15.
